The flower season is under way, calling for everyone to break away from the accustomed moorings long enough to see something of a desert floral display that is an unexpected revelation to the uninitiated and a source of pleasure to those who have witnessed it before. Present indications point to the height of the season during Easter week.

Routine is a terrible slave driver with no respect for the rich or the poor, the sick or the well, and it is this fellow that keeps so many persons trotting along in the same old rut, without time or inclination to hit back at routine and take time from the regular circular-trotting program to see that there is a desert outside Palm Springs.

To be specific. The road to Indio leads through lanes of verbena and desert sunflowers; north of Indio the sand dunes are blanketed with verbena and among the verbena are outstanding members of the evening primrose family to lend a touch of color contrast. Near Whitewater the bladderpod bushes are covered with yellow blossoms; along the roadside are the desert dandelion and that beautiful white Rafinesque. Just beyond Whitewater, on the main highway, is a side hill covered with blue phacelia, a species closely related to and resembling the Canterbury Bell, growing in the canyons south of Palm Springs. The aqueduct road beyond Garnet is lined with one of the smaller white flowered evening primroses; near Pushwalla Camp the little rosy-pink Nama is growing in profusion that has not been seen in the memory of present residents. Near Salton Sea the Desert Lily plants are appearing and should soon be blossoming. North of Edom is a combination display of verbena and desert sunflower. Do not forget the almond blossoms at Banning.

And all this is just the high light that may be seen from a not too rapidly moving automobile. If you enjoy flowers, pull on heavy shoes for short hikes away from the parked car. But remember that the desert flowers are protected by law and this may be the year that it will be necessary to patrol the roads. Most wildflowers wilt rapidly, making it useless to try to transport them any distance; so allow them to remain unpicked to produce a seed crop for future seasons.

This year we are finding many species that have not appeared for years. Favorable germination and fore we can have a plant we must conditions have caused this, but be—

School Bus Is Wrecked; No One Hurt

The Palm Springs grammar school bus was wrecked Tuesday morning, but fortunately no children were in the bus at the time of the wreck, which occurred after the children had been discharged at the school house. The accident was at the corner of Indian Avenue and Ramon Road. Glenn Martin, driver of the bus, was driving south on Indian avenue when his bus was struck amidship by a heavy Studebaker car driven by John E. Boyle of Beverly Hills, who was approaching from the east on Ramon Road. It is said the bus would have turned over from the impact, but it struck a pole which bounced it back on its wheels.

Both cars were badly damaged, but no one was injured. Mr. Martin had brought in a load of pupils from Cathedral City and was returning to that place when the collision occurred, at 8:25 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Mann of Buffalo, N. Y., are making their annual visit to Palm Springs and are staying at the Desert Inn. Mr. Mann is one of the officials of the Buffalo Power and Light Co.

Girl Disappears; Leaves Suicide Note

Leaving only a note in which she said that she was about to commit suicide and that no one will ever find her body, Miss Achia Goodykoontz, child psychologist who has been conducting a private school in Palm Springs, disappeared Monday night and no one has been able to locate her.

Police were notified Tuesday morning by parents of a child that had been left in the teacher's custody, that she had disappeared. When officers searched the premises they found a note addressed to the young lady's sisters, Misses Ruth and Marie Goodykoontz, both residents of Palm Springs. Miss Goodykoontz declared in the note that she was going for her "last swim," and that she would "die happy." Also that they need not look for her body because it would never be found.

She took her dog along, but Wednesday morning the dog returned alone, exhausted from a long walk and showing that he had traveled some distance.

Miss Marie Goodykoontz when interviewed by a Desert Sun reporter yesterday, stated she had made the rounds of the beaches and lake resorts, looking for a clue, but none had been found. She and her sister could give no reason why their sister had disappeared and they fear she has ended her life. They said there is a possibility the girl may have gone to Salton Sea or Lake Arrowhead.

Police throughout Southern California are searching for the young lady.

Biggest Crowd at Desert Circus

At the Field Club yesterday afternoon there was one continuous round of activity from noon until five o'clock, as the Fourth Annual Desert Circus was presented to the largest crowd ever assembled at one event in Palm Springs.

With 25 stellar attractions it was necessary to have two or three events in progress at one time in order to complete the show in one afternoon.

The affair started at noon with the Children's Events, and at 1:30 there was a mounted Grand Entry for all participants, headed by the famous U.S.C. band which was preceded by three lovely girls, "strutting" to the tune of the snappy march music of this outstanding musical organization. They are the Misses Betty Lee Atkinson, Betty Brown and Gwen Smith. The band was directed by that master conductor of march music, Harold Roberts.

Then came the presentation of the four great mounted groups, Los Angeles County Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz and his posse, the Breakfast Club Rangers of Los Angeles and Hollywood and the Sheriff's posses of Riverside and San Bernardino counties, headed by Sheriffs Emmett Shay and Carl Rayburn. These were followed by a grand array of Palm Springs cowboys and cowgirls and numerous local socialites riding their favorite horses.

Following this event the prizes were awarded to the parade participants, which are listed in another article in this newspaper.

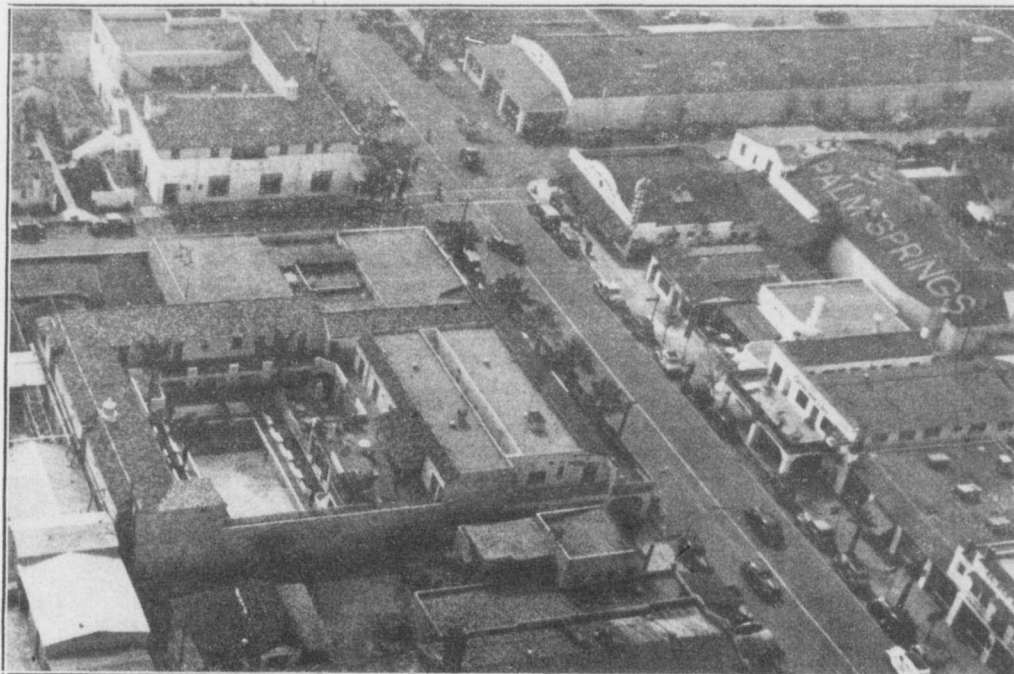

Trapeze performers, tight rope walkers, cowboy calf ropers and clowns entertained in the center section while races were being run on the track.

Feature attractions were Babe Thomason, sensational star of Al G. Barnes Circus, trick roping and riding by Monte Montana, and the De Garros, comedy revolving ladder act, Sells Floto Circus.

The clowns afforded no end of amusement. Chief among these was Jesse Kell, a free lance clown, who traveled more than 35,000 miles last summer with his famous mules, Ring and Shafter, and his fast racing horse. He mimicked many of the tricks of

The above aerial picture is supplied to The Desert Sun through the courtesy of Earl T. Gray of the Central and Royal Palms Hotels. In the left foreground is the new Royal Palms Hotel, showing the swimming pool in the patio. Directly across Palm Canyon Drive is the Central Hotel. At the corner on the same side of the street as the Central Hotel is the Village Pharmacy, showing the theatre entrance with the huge perpendicular neon sign. The building in the rear of this, with the words "Palm Springs" on the roof is the Palm Springs Theatre. Across the street from this is the very large Desert Inn Garage. In the upper left hand corner of the photo is the $100,000.00 Carnell Building.

Ancient Ceremonial In Progress on Local Indian Reservation

The ancient Annual Ceremony for the dead has been in progress all week at the Palm Springs Indian reservation, but only members of the tribe are permitted to be present this year.

"These ceremonials are sacred to the Indians," said H. H. Quackenbush yesterday, "so if they wish to exclude the whites, that is their affair. They claim that in years gone by white people have witnessed the rites and some of them make a joke of it, laughing at the songs and dances they did not understand. When a Los Angeles newspaper intimated that the Indians may have wrought vengeance upon a writer, by killing him, because he allegedly had studied their ritual, it was the last straw for the Indians. They don't scoff at the white man's religion, and they resent having the white man laughing at theirs."

The festivities began Monday evening, and continue day and night until sunrise Sunday morning, ending with the procession to the Indian cemetery, where wax effigies of those who have died will be burned on the graves.

Three Indians have died during the year since the last ceremonial. They are John Segundo, aged tribesman; his son, little John Segundo, who was run over by an automobile near the Indian Store last Spring, and Helen Segundo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Segundo.

Effigies of the three have been made and these are kept in a conspicuous place throughout the ceremonial. The festivities consist of singing, dancing and feasting aimed to drive away evil spirits and thus assist the dead to the happy hunting grounds. Everything they do during the ceremonial is interpretive and symbolic.

They chant a haunting melody in the Cahuilla tongue, their scale of music having only four notes. The song seems endless, for it begins with the origin of the tribesman who has gone to the happy hunting grounds, and tells of his accomplishments and the glory and valor of his clan.

The wampum of the deceased is auctioned to the highest bidder, only members of the clan to which the deceased belonged being permitted to buy. After the purchase, the wampum is destroyed.

Most of the ceremonial is conducted in the Kish Annuit (big house) which is the Indian's sacred meeting place. During the week of festivities they have three sumptuous meals a day, broiling venison and beef steaks over the open fire in the feast house, and cooking great quantities of welish (acorn mush) which is a delicacy for the Indians. They secure the acorns in the mountains, and grind these into flour. Whites who have eaten of the mush say it makes a most delicious dish.

Yesterday the Indians slaughtered a fat young steer for the feast that will be held today and tomorrow. Indians from surrounding reservations are here as guests of the local tribe to participate in the festivities.

The principal game during the event is the ancient peon game, in which they use black and white sticks. The participants are divided into teams, who hide their sticks, and each side must guess the hiding places, which they do by studying the antics and the expressions on the faces of the opponents. Many of the Indians are extremely skilled in the game. The side which secures all the sticks wins, but to accomplish this the game often continues for many hours.

Although the local Indians seldom play Koon Kan, another old Indian game, there is a possibility they may play it this year.

Police, Fire Election April 5

Elections for the Palm Springs Police and Fire Protection Districts will be held on Monday, April 5, to elect a director for each of the two commissions. The commissioners whose terms expire on that day are John Holditch of the police commission, and John Kline of the fire commission. It is understood both will be candidates for re-election.

Hold-over commissioners are George Roberson and Carl G. Lykken of the police board, and A. F. Hicks and Charles Bosworth of the fire commission.

The two precincts will probably be consolidated into one for the purpose of the election, and one election board can serve for both. However, there will be two ballots, and possibly three, for the fire commission may have to ask consent of the voters to expend money on hand to operate the department, the law providing that expenditures cannot be increased more than 5 per cent over the previous year's without consent from the State Board of Equalization or from the majority of the voters of the district.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Young and their attractive children, L. Young, Jr., and Nancy Young, were recent Desert Inn guests. The family hails from Los Angeles where Mr. Young is a well known attorney.

High School Board Buys New Bus

The Banning Union High School board of trustees voted 4 to 1 Wednesday evening to purchase a White 58-capacity school bus, the purchase price being $6,000 plus the old Reo bus which was turned in on trade and $180 sales tax, the bus to be used for transporting Palm Springs students to Banning Union high school. Frank V. Shannon, Palm Springs representative, voted against the purchase. The bus has been in use on trial for several months.

Mr. Shannon had Attorney Roy Colegate with him at the meeting, who notified the board that the procedure was illegal. It was said that Mr. Shannon, through Attorney Colegate, will file an injunction against the board, to stop consummation of the deal.

Contract has been let to Clark McEuen of Hemet for drilling a well on the Palm Springs high school building site. The contract price is approximately $2,200 for a 350-ft. depth. McEuen is to start work within the next ten days. This matter was also protested by Mr. Shannon and a group of Palm Springs citizens.

In the Wheeler well, not far from the high school drilling, water stands at 147 feet.

Officials Inspect Proposed Palm Canyon Road

County Engineer A. C. Fulmer went over the proposed new Palm Canyon road yesterday with Federal Agent H. H. Quackenbush, and voiced his approval of the road. County Supervisor R. E. Dillon was also here, and he stated the county will aid the Indian Bureau in constructing a good highway.

The three men held an impromptu meeting at Hotel Del Tahquitz yesterday. Thomas Lipps also being present. The group, with other Federal officials and their wives, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Quackenbush at their residence on the reservation. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fulmer, Mr. Dillon, Donald Reed, engineer of the U. S. Department of Interior stationed at Riverside; Mr. Reed's sister, Mrs. Butler of Riverside; Mrs. John Dady, wife of the superintendent of the Indian Department of this area, of Riverside, and her daughter, Miss Helen, and Mrs. Dady's father, Mr. Reeder of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Smith, also of New York and house guests of the Dady's; and Mr. and Mrs. Paddy Bell, proprietors of the Big Limit Cafe in Cabazon.

90 Entries in Desert Circus Parade

The greatest and most colorful Desert Circus parade in history, two miles in length, and ninety institutions participating, was witnessed by a huge throng yesterday as it wended its way south on Palm Canyon Drive to the stirring march of melodies of three bands and a number of orchestras.

The Fourth Annual Desert Circus Parade surpassed all expectations, and was even better than last year's event. Headed by the grand marshal, Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles county and his famous mounted posse, followed close behind by the best college band in the country, the famed Trojan band of U. S. C., the parade had eighty entries by local business establishments.

Three other great musical groups, all in their distinctive uniforms, took their places at intervals in the line of march. These were the Loyola University Band, brought here through the courtesy of the Desert Inn; the famous Sherman Institute Indian band from Riverside, and the great Salvation Army band of Los Angeles.

The first of the entries by local institutions were two mammoth elephants from Barnes circus, entered by the Desert Inn. In the Howdah atop the first monster, sat Mrs. Nellie Coffman, founder of the Inn. This entry won first place in the "Typical of the Desert" classification. Second prize in this classification was awarded to McKinney's Desert Nursery, depicting desert vegetation, and the third to the Deep Well Guest Ranch, a restful and sleepy Mexican tableaux.

The Los Angeles County Sheriff's Posse received first prize for the best mounted group, the Breakfast Club Rangers of Los Angeles and Hollywood received second prize, and the Riverside-San Bernardino Counties Sheriff's posse were third.

Receiving first prize among the entrants in which children participated was a small float drawn by two small dogs, entered by Nicholson's store. Second prize went to a group of children cyclists entered by Keith McCulloch, and third to The Desert Sun. Little Suzanne Cooper, age 18 months, riding a small white pony, represented The Desert Sun in "1927," and she was followed by her father, Jimmy Cooper, astride a black charger, representing The Desert Sun of today, "1937." Father and daughter were made up as Indians. Jimmy is the advertising manager of The Sun.

In the educational classification the telephone company's float carrying a huge globe and showing the Palm Springs Exchange connected with all the principal points of the earth, received second prize.

50,000 Cars On Highway 3 Sundays

More than 16,000 automobiles were counted by the "electric eyes" on the state highway near the junction of the Palm Springs road, during the 24-hour period from midnight Saturday night to midnight Sunday.

During corresponding periods of the two preceding Sundays there were more than 17,000 automobiles each day. It is believed most of the traffic was to and from Palm Springs.

Averaging four people to the car, there were 68,000 people each Sunday who traveled over the road, or more than 200,000 in three Sundays.

The electric eye consists of a light ray projected from one side of the road to a photo-electric cell on the other side. Whenever the light ray is intercepted, the device automatically counts the break. There are 10 such devices in the state.

Admission prices have been reduced at the Plaza Theatre. In the balcony, where smoking is permitted, the price is now 55c; in the center section downstairs, 55c, and on the sides downstairs, 40c. Children are admitted to the theatre for 25c.

Edward Hohfeld, a prominent San Francisco attorney, is a Palm Springs visitor and is staying at the Inn.

ceived first prize. La Clase school, a float carrying pupils of the school, won second award, and the interesting float of Dr. Henry Reid's hospital and clinic was third.

Morgan's Camera Shop was first in equestrian entrants, Arthur Harrold, second, and the Desert Linen Shop third.

Hotel the Oasis received first award for the most beautiful float in the parade. The float was decorated with freshly cut flowers. Second prize went to I. Magnin's shop for the float carrying the lovely young ladies employed at the shop wearing the attractive new spring gowns, and third to the Desert Inn Garage.

Anthony Burke, official dog catcher, won first place as the most humorous. Lykken's Store received second award. The entire Lykken staff, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lykken, marched in the parade, and all were dressed in the clothes of the gay nineties, from the finest Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes of that day worn by Mr. and Mrs. Lykken down to the lace and ruffles worn by Pauline Goff. The third prize went to Ralph Bellamy and Charlie Farrell, proprietors of the Racquet Club, riding in a horse-drawn vehicle.

For the most original entrant, the huge float depicting the O'Donnell Desert Golf Course received first prize, Palm Springs Plaza, second, and El Mirador Hotel, third.

Raymond Cree, pioneer realtor, received first prize as the best pedestrian. Dressed as an old prospector Mr. Cree led two burros, upon one of which rode Mrs. Cree in calico dress and sunbonnet, and the other burrow carrying all their earthly belongings. Jimmy Britt, disguised as Haile Selassie, would have been mistaken as the former Ethiopian emperor by the former subjects of the "king of kings" as he marched in the parade. He received second prize. The third award went to the Cook House.

The parade ended, as every good circus parade ends, with a callopie.

For the first time this year the Desert Circus had a theme song. It was composed by Mrs. Melba Bennett and was sung on various occasions preceding the big event. The song was sung to the tune of "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain," and here it is:

"They'll be comin' to the circus when they come,
They'll be wearin' western riggin' when they come,
They'll be wearin' red and yaller,
Every gal will have her feller
They'll be comin' to the circus when they come."

They'll be ridin' on a pony when they come,
They'll be sittin' in a saddle when they come,
They'll be whoopin' and a yellin'
When they leave there'll be no tellin'

Miss Alicia Skjonsby, vagabonding sketch artist, who has been drawing faces of Palm Springs people, on her way around the United States, says she has found some very good looking models here including nobility; "Amos and Andy" a countess, motion picture producer, a mayor, and plenty of little Indian boys.

Here is the place for color and variety galore she said. "All the faces are happy; sunny faces being reflections of the sunny climate. The pioneers, especially radiate; their eyes squint and an upward tendency is natural at the mouth." Miss Skjonsby thinks the little Indian children are most interesting being wild and full of glee, they swoop down upon a friend in such perilous fashion with their enthusiasm.

Miss Skjonsby was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waskow of the Desert Furniture Mart.

John E. Gates Takes Bride

The marriage of John E. Gates of Palm Springs, to Miss Lucile Langford of Redlands was announced this week. The marriage occurred on February 13th at Las Vegas, Nevada. Mr. Gates is the proprietor of Gates Nut Kettle, located opposite the Desert Inn. Mrs. Gates is the granddaughter of J. D. Langford of San Bernardino and Redlands.

The romance began at the University of Redlands where the two were classmates. They had planned on an extensive honeymoon, but Mr. Gates had to return to his business here because of the critical illness of his father, F. W. Gates, who is still in a serious condition at the Glendale Sanatorium.

Desert Sun Sports

(By Jimmie Cooper)

Palm Springs Lions were entertained last Wednesday by Hans Ohrt, noted cyclist from Riverside. Mr. Ohrt is an official of the Olympic cycling teams and a well known figure around Southern California, as he is on the highway every Sunday with his wife and friends, making cycling trips to various interesting spots. Mr. Ohrt's speech recalled some of the upsets and highlights in last year's Olympic Games.

Let's turn back the calendar then to the last week in July, 1936, and refresh our memories:

The classic marathon, a 26-mile, 365 yard grueling test of stamina and endurance. The winner Sun of Japan. This tiny Nippon turned the last 100 meters of the 26-mile event in 11.7 seconds, which is probably a lot faster than you and you and you could go out and do right now.

India successfully defended field hockey championships won in 1928 and 1932 with ease.

The dismal failures of the American shot-putters.

United States topped all competition in the men's swimming and diving. Japan had been figured to beat their American rivals due to amazing times turned in in practice.

Helen Stephens' sensational time in the 100-meter dash for women caused her to be labeled a man in disguise by jealous foreign newspapermen. Miss Stephens' time as compared with the time of the winner of the men's event in 1896 would have enabled her to beat him by five yards. Jesse Owens, world's record time for men was only 1.1 of a second faster.

Attendance records were shattered in Berlin when well over four million people paid to see the XI Olympic. The 1932 games in Los Angeles drew a million and a half people.

Racing at Santa Anita has ended and everyone has witnessed the most remarkable meeting in history. Each year has surpassed the others at Santa Anita. One naturally wonders when they will find it impossible to better former years' marks.

Seabiscuit's smashing victory in the San Juan Capistrano Handicap last Saturday, as predicted by this observer, made the season's picks hit a fair average. Fairy Hill, our first choice in the Santa Anita Derby, topped that event at 14 to 1. Rosemont, second choice to Time Supply, won the big $100,000 Handicap and Seabiscuit took last week's feature.

Famous Folk Go Western at El Mirador

Along with the rest of Palm Springs El Mirador has gone completely western. Nearly all the guests have turned out in their cowboy hats and western outfits. Even the doorman and the bell boys are wearing loud checkered shirts and Levi overalls.

Amos 'n' Andy and Bill Hay are seen each day on their way to the tower to broadcast dressed in loud checkered shirts and full regalia.

John J. Raskob, not satisfied with just hat and boots, even donned a pair of chaps and a frontier forty-five six shooter.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ford, who were among the gayest at the western fashion show are seen each day playing Ping Pong in their western outfits.

At the Kangaroo Court held in front of El Mirador on Friday, Judge "Chuck" Morrison fined several of the guests for not wearing proper western attire. Mr. and Mrs. William Ewing of New York were among the first to be fined. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson were also fined and other guests hurried to nearby stores to purchase the proper attire and the next day all were dressed in western style.

The most beautiful costume was worn by Mrs. Freeman Gosden, who has a complete white outfit composed of a white beaver Stetson, white boots, and white, fringed buckskin jacket and shirt.

Having lunch with Mr. King Vidor in the grill at El Mirador were Miss Paulette Goddard and Frank Shields.

Mr. Vidor is a frequent guest and is spending the week here resting between pictures.

Seen at the bar were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Miss Connie Bennett and Gilbert Roland, who are in Palm Springs for the week.

Visiting with the lovely Mrs. Eugene Ford was Miss Monty Kramer, who is reported to be the fiancée of Lyle Talbot. In spite of the rumor that Miss Kramer has eloped with Mr. Talbot, she states she has no intention of marrying for some time—and maybe never.

Other people of the picture world include Herbert Marshall, George Gershwin, and Miss Marjory Murdock, the latter visiting with Mrs. Freeman Gosden.

Visiting at El Mirador are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brossard and daughter, Kathryn, of Glenview, Illinois, also Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Brown of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Carraker and their lovely daughter, Camille, of Los Angeles, among the prominent New Yorkers are Mrs. A. A. Corey, Jr., and Miss Henderson. Derby of Columbus, Ohio.

Gas Office To Open Monday

The completion of the new Southern California Gas Company office brings Palm Springs a step nearer its goal of becoming a completely self-contained community.

The doors of the new building on North Palm Canyon Drive will be thrown open for the first time next Monday morning. Palm Springs residents are urged to drop in and see for themselves the many attractive features of the new quarters.

The building itself is modern and is in keeping with the high standard of architecture which is typical of the community. Quarters have been provided for a complete branch office staff. In addition, there are attractive, well-lighted displays of the very latest in modern home appliances, including gas ranges, water heaters, gas refrigerators, and house heating equipment.

When interviewed today, H. C. McAllister, division manager of the Southern California Gas Company said: "The increasing demand for the efficiency and economy of modern gas appliances, together with the rapid growth of this area, has long made it evident that the establishment of a Palm Springs office would be necessary."

"Now that the office has become a fact, Palm Springs residents may have every detail of their gas service handled through convenient contact with our local staff. Activities for this district now centralized here will include payment offices, service orders, and appliance sales."

"The fact that we have erected a building for our permanent quarters and that we will maintain a local staff indicates that the Southern California Gas Company looks to Palm Springs for ever-increasing growth."

Swimming Pool Proposed for Reservation

A large swimming pool will probably be built this summer at the local Indian Reservation to augment the mud baths.

H. H. Quackenbush, Federal agent in charge of the reservation has applied for approval of the improvement projects which he hopes to have provided when a considerable sum is apportioned next July for various works of this nature.

Some years ago a place was dug for a swimming pool in front of the baths but the pool was never completed. Now Mr. Quackenbush is trying to get this work started and completed so that when the season resumes next fall, there will be a large, nicely tiled swimming pool ready for use. It will be filled with the famous medicinal waters from the springs which feed the mud baths.

He said the flow of the water can be so increased that it would not only take care of the needs for the mud baths but also permit a change of water in the swimming pool every two hours. Further than this, the water supply can be made sufficiently large so that two more baths can be constructed. This also is included among the improvement plans.

Another idea Mr. Quackenbush has is for a large, glass enclosed solarium to run the full length of the north side of the pool.

These changes will substantially increase revenue to the Indians as well as provide a highly beneficial spa for white visitors, Quackenbush pointed out.

Mrs. Ona Brown Barnes will be hostess at a cocktail party at her home Saturday evening from 5 until 7 to honor Misses Adrienne Ames, Jane Merrick and Madge Bellamy. About 75 guests have been invited. Mrs. Barnes has advised her guests to come rigged out in western apparel. Cowboy musicians from Rogers' Stables will do the musical honors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Spencer and their two children are now occupying the Emmons home in Tahquitz Desert Estates, which they have taken for the remainder of the season. Mr. Spencer is manager of Carl's Restaurant and Rendezvous in the Plaza.

One of the attractive affairs for the visiting Los Angeles Sheriff's Posse gang and the Breakfast Club Rangers was a cocktail party given Tuesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hull at their Palm Springs home. Hugo Guenther, proprietor of the famed Murieta Hot Springs who has been here several weeks, has decided to spend the remainder of the season. Through Bill Breen, local real estate man, he has taken the Brigdon home in Tahquitz Park for the coming months.

"PINK OASIS" IS SOLD TO WESTWOOD HILLS MAN

The Pink Oasis, distinctive home in Desert Sands tract, has been sold by Edmund F. Lindop, owner and developer of the tract, to Fred C. Baker of Westwood. The home was opened for inspection not long ago and drew much favorable comment.

Lindop reported that among other homes now being erected in the tract is a ranch-type residence for the Hull brothers, well-known lumber dealers of Beverly Hills.

Lallande Injured In Circus Parade

Pierre Lallande fell off the back of the fire department float in the desert circus parade yesterday morning, striking his head on the pavement. It is said that blood ran from one ear, and it is reported he also ruptured an ear drum in the fall. However he is now resting easily and is out of danger.

Last Spring Lallande was critically injured in an automobile wreck, in which he suffered a fractured skull, fractured vertebrae and broken ribs. He was in the hospital for several months and still wears steel braces to support his spine.

Carl Barkow suffered a wrenched right arm when he tried to hold his horse which was frightened by the elephants in the parade, consequently he had considerably difficulty writing news for this issue of The Desert Sun.

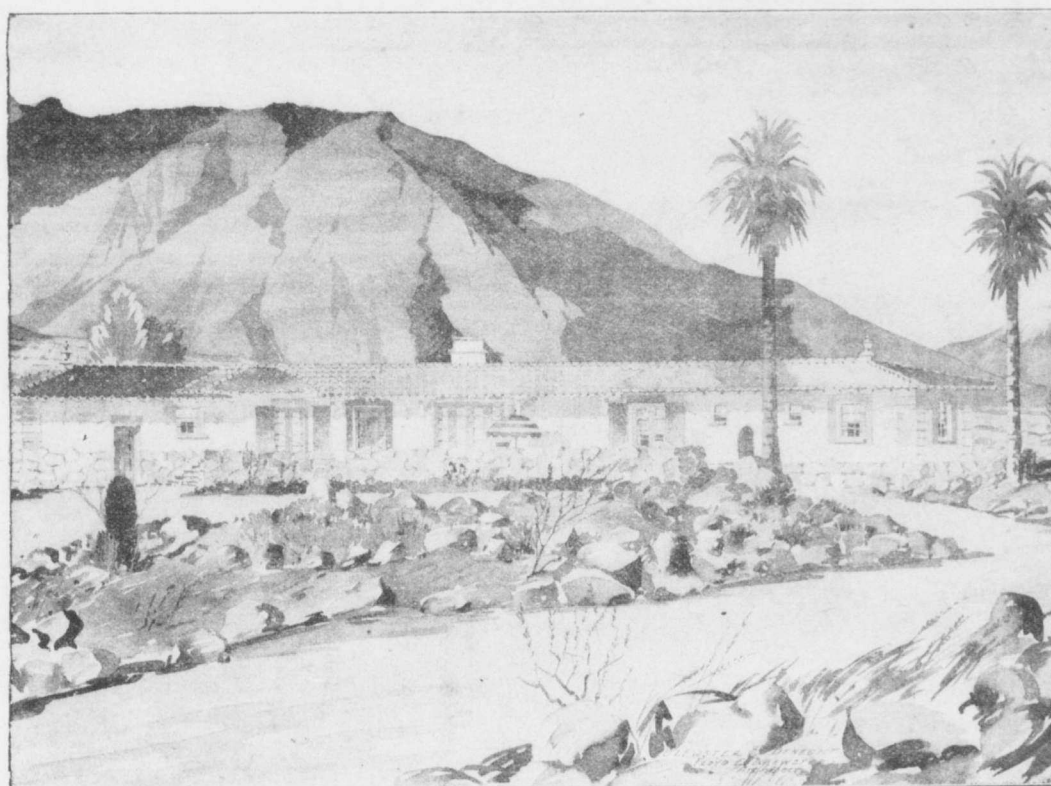

Otherwise there were no accidents during circus day.

More About Father Devine's "Big Shots"

The Desert Sun received the following letter this week:

"You will probably recall the story you ran in the Desert Sun about the couple who registered at the El Mirador as 'Jesus the Christ' and 'Virgin Mary' and after insisting that they were the real McCoy were refused rooms by the hotel clerk.

"Then it seems that the aforesaid clerk informed the managers of the other hotels of the incident. So, later in the day the couple approached the desk of the Desert Inn, asked for a suite of rooms, gave their names, the clerk looked for reservations in his files (which of course he knew had not been made) and told them he could not find any record of reservations. The man immediately replied: No, we didn't make any reservations. So the clerk told him he was sorry but they were full up.

"The couple returned at noon, bought three luncheon tickets and entered the dining room. They instructed the waitress to serve them a third place with another full course. She did. However when it appeared to her that the third guest failed to arrive, she stated that they wouldn't have to pay for the meal that wasn't eaten. Jesus the Christ answered: 'But Yes! the third guest was here and did eat.' We always save a place for the Holy Ghost. (Guess the waitress scratched her head and said 'Oh, Yea.'"

It seems they registered at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena the following week, but they had another duck with them, who signed his name: 'John the Baptist'.

"They took three rooms and baths, didn't object to paying double the rate that was gocked to them $20.00 per nite per person. However, mentioned the fact that they wished no publicity. They contacted Mr. Cord of the famous motor car company, purchased a car from him, $17,500 cash, which they carried in a valise. Although they requested a change in the seating arrangement. Wished room enough in the rear seat for 4 passengers and wanted the right front seat to be just in front of the chauffeur's seat as they said: 'Jesus the Christ must come first.'"

"I saw a photostatic copy of the original registration slip of the Huntington Hotel, giving their names, and a Beverly Hills address as their permanent headquarters, room numbers at the Hotel and 'No Publicity' written across its face.

"They are apparently followers of this Father Divine guy, or I should say his big shots. You know, they must give up all past identity, etc. But they sure had the dinero.

"The personnel at the hotel played a trick the last night they were there.

Mike Flavin's Driving Range on Indian avenue at Ramon Road is now open nightly between seven and 11 o'clock. Mr. Flavin has made night driving at his course an enjoyable sport by installing huge Crouse-Hines flood lights that show a ball 200 yards or more in flight. Golf instruction at the range may be made by appointment.

When the Verbenas Bloom

(By Nellie Barnard Parker)

Stranger, have you heard the lay,
The song us folks sing ever' day
From early fall till late in May—
The song that keeps us bright and gay?
It goes like this—jist flop your ear—
And we will sing it loud and clear.
"When the verbenas bloom!"

You wouldn't know the desert then.
It changes mountains, sands and men.
It peps up ever' denizen
Like lizzards "scorps" and our old hen.
You'll be surprised if you stick 'round
At all the color on the ground.
"When the verbenas bloom!"

You're skeptic now—I heard you knock!
But let me tell you, sand and rock
And ever' thing at which you mock
Will brighten like a male peacock—
The sand dunes way out over there—
The mountains soarin' in the air—
"When the verbenas bloom!"

Your toast is crisp. The bath is hot.
Your aches and pains are all forgot.
The horses lope—no giggly trot!—
In all the land there's not a blot.
The winds don't blow, the mail ain't late.
There's not a thing to irritate.
"When the verbenas bloom!"

Now, stranger, jist you stick around
Until the flowers are on the ground,
When perfume, color, all abound
In such profusion they confound.
You'll join our chorus, strong and gay
And sing this anthem ever' day.
"When the verbenas bloom!"

6-Gun Spurts On Field of Honor

A. V. "Dead Men Collect No Cover Charge" Spencer, owner and manager of Carl's Rendezvous Roof and Restaurant, died on the field of honor Wednesday noon, victim of six bullets, all through the heart, from the mighty six-gun wielded by "Dead-eye" Tony Burke, who was promptly arrested and taken to the town hoosegow, on the road to which he had started some weeks ago as the result of a similar yet less violent altercation.

It seemed that all the tough mugs from all the diggins and cow-camps in these yar parts were present to witness the duel. It had been noised around that the two desperadoes and arch-enemies would sooner or later meet, which they did on Wednesday noon in front of Spencer's chop house. Each had his seconds. They were tied back to back with a rope 40 paces in length, and when the word was given by Cowboy Alexander, they paced off 20 steps, turned and each fired six times, more or less. Spencer dropped, mortally wounded, the blood spurting from his heart. His last words were: "Well, pard, I never think yuh cu'd a done it. Drop in at 5 o'clock and have a drink on me, when the sun goes down o'er them thar hills." He cast his eyes toward the noon-day sun, blinked a few times, and expired. "I need a rest anyway," he said, when willing hands had gently carried him to the bar-room floor.

Tony languished in jail for nearly an hour while he was supposed to be at the Lion's meeting to make an official announcement for the Desert Circus parade. Anyway, the event was exciting and colorful, and resulted in some swell motion pictures and fun for everybody, and no more cover charge at Carl's Rendezvous Roof.

Hans Ohrt Addresses Lions' Club

Hans Ohrt, former Olympic official and noted cycling champion, rode his bicycle from Riverside to Palm Springs Wednesday morning in three hours, and delivered a most interesting address to the Palm Springs Lions Club. He was a guest of Dr. M. L. Lachman. Other guests of the club were Olympic diving champions, Harold "Dutch" Smith and Mickey Riley.

High lights of Mr. Ohrt's address are to be found in Jimmy Cooper's sports column in this issue of the Desert Sun. He stated that the great cycling industry was rejuvenated and started again on its way to national prominence right here in Palm Springs last year, and the wave is sweeping the country. One million, two hundred thousand bicycles were sold during the past year in this country, which exceeds the peak production when bicycles were in their hey-day.

He told of some marvelous cycling records, such as 1000 miles, a distance equal to that of Palm Springs to Vancouver, B. C., in three days and one hour, which is a shorter time than required by motorists to negotiate that distance.

Mr. Ohrt stated that badminton is becoming one of the foremost sports of the world, and that baseball is taking Japan and China by storm.

President Cree read the new charter received by the club and asked all the members to sign it. Russell Reagan was chairman of the day.

Tunnel Strike Came to End Sunday

The sit-down strike at Potrero shaft of the Colorado River aqueduct came to an end Sunday morning when the crews, consisting of approximately 120 men, went back to work.

C. J. Powers, organizer, and William Gately, international union representative, went into the shaft and talked to the men before the vote was taken to negotiate with the Metropolitan Water district. The district is driving the shaft through the San Jacinto mountains as part of the gigantic conduit that will bring Colorado river water to Los Angeles and vicinity.

While agreeing to return to work, it is said the strikers flatly refused to again enter the main heading of the tunnel. They claimed it was unsafe and said they would not work there until the state mining inspector inspected the workings. The men were assigned to other jobs.

The sit-down was organized spontaneously after Alex Simpson, superintendent, was dismissed and a successor appointed, strike leaders said.

"John Mead's Woman" Here This Week

Edward Arnold and Francine Larrimore in "John Mead's Woman," at the Palm Springs Theatre, Saturday and Sunday, March 13-14.

"Nancy Steel Is Missing" at the Plaza

Victor McLaglen and Peter Lorre are shown in a scene from "Nancy Steel Is Missing" at the Plaza Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 18-19-20.

IDA LUPINO WITH SCREEN

"HUSKIES," MCLAGLEN, FOSTER

Rough-and-ready sailors shivered when Chief Bo'sun's Mate Victor McLaglen bellowed at them, but his demure little daughter, Ida Lupino, staunchly defied him when he meddled with her romantic affairs in RKO's rousing drama, "Sea Devils," playing at the Plaza Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Believing that Preston Foster, who had the reputation in the Coast Guard of being a "lies" man, was not a very desirable prospective son-in-law, Mc-

Laglen made Foster's duties as miserable as possible and several fierce combats between the two resulted.

The treacherous duties of the Coast Guard in the rescue of persons from sinking ships, and the patrolling of steamer lanes for ice hazards are realistically reproduced in this thrilling photoplay.

Donald Woods, one of the popular young leading men of the screen, is seen in one of the principal roles. The cast includes Gordon Jones, Helen Flint, Pierre Watkin, Murray Alper and Billy Gilbert.

thieves, but a lovable crook who makes unusual sacrifices to protect the good name of the woman he adores.

Montgomery appears as romantic young Lord Dilling who uncovers the plot to fleece his British friends and who learns the true character of Mrs. Cheyney when she chooses exposure as a thief rather than submit to his amorous advances.

Adrian designed new and startling costumes for Miss Crawford which promise to set the fashion world agog, and Cedric Gibbons and his assistants provided some of the most lavish settings yet to be seen on the screen.

LEE TRACY

LEE TRACY AND MARGOT GRAHAME TEAMED IN "CRIMINAL LAWYER"

Notable for stream-lined action, appealing romance and dramatic suspense, "Criminal Lawyer," screen feature, opens Tuesday at the Plaza Theatre, with Lee Tracy and Margot Grahame offering dynamic characterizations in the top roles.

Tracy, playing a brilliant but unscrupulous lawyer, is elevated to district attorney by the leader of a gambling ring. His court triumphs as prosecutor pave the way for his election as governor. He awakes one night to find himself married to a girl whose father can aid his political career.

When the gambling leader, whose "mouthpiece" he formerly was, is brought up on a murder charge, the district attorney prosecutes him with all his vigor and cunning. He is dumbfounded, however, when his own secretary is placed on the witness chair to testify for the murderer.

The roles played by Tracy and Miss Grahame were calculated as ideal to their talents. Both Tracy and Miss Grahame are considered among the foremost dramatic players on the screen, the latter having played the feminine lead in "The Informer," RKO's prize-winning screen drama of 1935.

Erik Rhodes plays the role of a foreign crooner and lightens the heavier dramatic moments with a new song, "Tonight, Lover, Tonight" written by Jack Stern and Harry Tobias. Eduardo Ciannelli, distinguished New York stage character actor, is seen in the role of the gambling chief. Frank M. Thomas, who is proving to be one of the most versatile character actors in Hollywood also plays a prominent part.

Others in the supporting cast are Betty Lawford, Wilfred Lucas, Aileen Pringle, Claire McDowell, Otto Yamaoka and Theodore Von Eltz.

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" at Plaza

ROBERT MONTGOMERY, JOAN CRAWFORD, WILLIAM POWELL

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," playing today and Saturday at the Plaza Theatre brings together for the first time the three stars, who, singly, have recently contributed to the screen three of the year's most successful and outstanding pictures.

Joan Crawford, direct from "The Gorgeous Hussy"; William Powell, from "After the Thin Man"; Robert Montgomery, whose "Piccadilly Jim" still remains one of the high spots of 1936 screen entertainment.

To this triple-star cast Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer also has added an outstanding supporting cast that includes Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph, Rigel Bruce, Coleen Clare, Benita Hume, Ralph Forbes, Aileen Pringle and Melville Cooper.

Based upon the famous Frederic Lonsdale play of a few years ago, Leon Gordon, Samson Raphaelson and Monckton Hoffe completely modernized the story with a deft adaptation that promises to establish the screen version as an outstanding riot of laughter and complicated situations.

To Miss Crawford falls the title role of the lovely American woman in whose hands gullible English socialites become easy victims of a plot to trick them out of a fortune in jewels.

William Powell, as Mrs. Cheyney's butler, Charles, is revealed as the brains of the group of international

WIN WILSON REMARKS (Indio Date Palm)

I see in the papers that a farmer and his hired man have arrived at a working agreement. The hired man is to work for the farmer until he owns the ranch. Then the farmer is to work for the hired man until he gets it back again. It is estimated that each transaction will come to fulfillment in about five years.

This is the latest thing in working agreements and collective bargaining.

The next best one that we have heard on working agreements was sprung by one of our colored shoeshiners. When asked to shine a pair of shoes on credit, he replied: "No, can't do that, boss; I just done got a working agreement with the bank around the corner and Mr. McCarroll has agreed not to shine any shoes if I don't lend any money.—Indio Date Palm.

Pollywogs Have Swim Meet at El Mirador

On Sunday at eleven o'clock the large group of guests around the pool at El Mirador were entertained by a most unique swimming meet given by the youngsters who under the supervision of Harold "Dutch" Smith, displayed their swimming prowess.

Miss Jane Eaton, age seven, was the winner of the girls' class in the pollywog handicap and Herbert Johnson, age eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson of Chicago, was the winner in the boys' pollywog handicap.

Outstanding among the swimmers at the meet was young Tom Eaton who is so good in the water that "Dutch" Smith says he is certain to be a champion swimmer and diver. Freeman Gosden, Jr., son of the famous "Amos" who was the biggest threat in the handicap, had to scratch because of a sprained ankle.

Other prominent pollywogs were Virginia Gosden, Henry Monheimer, Kathryn Brossard, Barbara Schenk, and Tom and Betty Ackerman.

After the children's performance, "Dutch" and his assistant, Bill Lewin, who is also one of the greatest divers in the country, gave some exhibition diving and entertained the guests with several very clever comedy dives, of which both are masters and considered the best in their line.

VETS TO RECEIVE $1000 EXEMPTION

Approximately 3000 war veterans are expected to file exemptions for tax payments before the end of the assessment period, July 5, Assessor George V. Claytor estimated Monday, urging veterans to file their claims early.

The fact that early filing will facilitate the work of his office and make it possible for every care to be taken in granting proper exemptions, was given as the reason for Claytor's request.

Mrs. George B. Fink of Lake Merritt Hotel, Oakland, and her sister, Mrs. Jac Schnaberg, of New York City, have been spending a vacation in Palm Springs, having taken a house for their stay in the Desert Acres tract.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. Paul's words to the Romans: "If we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it," are the Golden Text.

One of the Bible citations in the Lesson-Sermon is from the epistle to the Hebrews: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." Another Bible selection is from Revelation: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power; for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created."

The Lesson-Sermon includes also these passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, are the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things."

Low Rates on Automatic Water Heaters

Home owners in Southern California may still purchase automatic gas water heaters under the terms of Title I of the Federal Housing Act, according to C. K. Graham, local manager of the Southern California Gas Company, who further calls attention to a campaign sponsored by merchant plumbers and gas companies to stimulate a wider use of automatic gas water heating equipment.

"We are particularly anxious at this time for people to know the terms of Title I because, unless Congress passes new legislation, loans for the purchase of automatic gas water heaters will not be available after March 31, under the present form of the Act," Mr. Graham stated.

"Terms of Title I in conjunction with the special terms offered during our campaign make possible the purchase of automatic gas water heating equipment under the most favorable circumstances.

"F. H. A. loans have several advantages, the most important being lower carrying charges. We are advised that local banks are prepared to receive and handle applications for these loans. Other lending agencies, too, are qualified to make loans under the act."

NEWS-REEL PICTURES OF DESERT RIDERS

Desert Riders and their guests turned out in full force for Wednesday morning's trek to the Experimental Station in Palm Canyon. All were dressed in colorful western garb, the reason for the special decorative touches—although the Riders always are a colorful and typically western crew—was that newsreel cameramen came over from Hollywood to do a little picture shooting. The morning's big event, the cowboy breakfast, prepared by Chuck Abbott, was at 8 o'clock.

The Desert

have the seed. This brings out the point that seeds of many plants will lie in the ground for years before conditions are favorable, then they germinate, reminding us of the practical efficiency of nature in perpetuating the plant species. This season I have identified more than eighty species on Tahquitz Fan and Tahquitz Canyon to the foot of the falls. Many of these I have not seen before in just that locality; as the season advances there should be more.

It is a regular thing for persons to point out desert shrubs saying that they appear to be dead and should be removed. Desert shrubs have a very convenient and practical habit of shedding twigs and branches as well as leaves. This is their protection against drought and cold. But the roots and root-crown are not dead and when the proper time comes will send out new shoots. Many persons have removed desert shrubs that would have produced new branches and foliage.

Always an outstanding spring event is the leafing of the cottonwoods about Palm Springs. This year they are later than usual but the trees are now rapidly putting out new foliage. The first trees to leaf are south of the village; these are decked out in new green while those in the center of the village are beginning to leaf.

Last Sunday the Paris Bortanial Club visited the desert. I spent part of the day attending the field trip. The membership is composed of amateur bontanists, but don't let that mislead you for some members are considerably past the amateur stage. Among its members are several older, retired men who are enjoying their later years with a hobby that allows them the enthusiasm of youth.

EL MIRADOR HOLDS PICNIC IN RIBBONWOOD FOREST

With the largest, most successful turn-out of the season, a huge caravan of El Mirador guests wound their way up the Palms-to-Pines highway to the beautiful Ribbonwood forest.

Manhattan cocktails, fried chicken, fruit salad, Boston brown bread and baked beans, apple pie and other delicacies were set on the quaint checkered table cloth.

Music was furnished by Buster Bill and Joe from Robbers' Stables. All the guests joined in and sang old time songs with the cowboys.

Among prominent guests on the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Dingwall of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brossard of Glencoe, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Green of Portland, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. John Vanneck, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Madden, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Plamondon of Chicago, Mrs. Freeman Gosden, Mrs. Melvin C. Eaton and Mr. John J. Raskob.

They both agree—

GAS COOKS BETTER AND COSTS LESS

WHETHER it's cooking results that count, or low fuel costs—natural gas is first choice! No other method of cookery gives such complete efficiency for roasting, baking, frying and broiling. Natural gas gives the right kind of heat. It provides the exact temperature required—high, low, or any of the degrees between. It's faster—goes to work without delay. And it's off the instant you want it off.

Consider not only the delicious dishes you can prepare with natural gas—but consider your budget, too. A complete meal for the average family, cooked with natural gas, costs about a penny!

As a further economy and for better results, use a modern, fuel-saving gas range. Your dealer or your gas company will show you the latest models and explain various easy payment plans.

They Had to Go "Western" Or Else--

JOHN Q. DOE
Born?
Died Suddenly!

Here lies the guy
Who refused to dress
In a big-brimmed hat
And a fancy vest.
We laid him down
In a cactus nest;
May he rest in peace,
We done our best.

The above epitaph was written on a tombstone over a newly-made grave in the Plaza early this week, which served as a warning to others who might have had the notion that they would not go Western.

At any rate, such warnings and the daily kangaroo court had the desired effect, and the court netted a generous sum for the Palm Springs Public Library.

It is said that Sheriff Allan Thompson and his deputies, Milton Hicks, Jack Kenaston, Archie Palmer, Leo Dudman, and Dr. Don Rush, probably arrested more than 400 victims and hauled them before the daily Kangaroo Court. The judge's bench was hauled in the circus parade, and victims were lassoed and hauled before the circuit riding judge, who conducted court while his court house was in motion.

Among the notables who were fined were John J. Raskob, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., and Lady Ashley.

During the session at the Fashion Show, there was almost a steady line appearing before "Judge" Charlie Hill.

Judge Chuck Morrison did the honors in front of El Mirador. And Chuck did everyone, including himself. John J. Raskob was hauled before the judge for taking pictures of the court scene and drew a total fine of twenty bucks when he "sassed" the judge.

Tom Lipps was fined $10 for trying to tell the court about law and then turned the tables by advising Morrison that he was violating court etiquette by conducting court with his hat on. The "judge" paid and then, to be real honest with everyone, fined himself another $25 for trying to cash a check at El Mirador. And because Warren Pinney cashed it, he drew a $25 loss.

"Judge" Morrison numbered among his victims Virginia Swegles, fined for being "fat and sassy," Travis Rogers for taking all the El Mirador guests "for a ride."

When "Judge" Charles Farrell presided at the Plaza Kangaroo Court Saturday afternoon his victims included Douglas Fairbanks and his attractive wife, Lady Ashley. Fairbanks drew a two dollar fine for wearing an English ascot tie in a western community and Lady Ashley was fined the same amount for her English accent in this western stronghold.

Mrs. Freeman Gosden drew a $5 penalty for being dressed too "beautifully" western; Al and Cal Beall were thrown for losses for claiming to be entertainers; Mickey Riley had to sing a song because he impersonated a nightingale. Lester Stoefer's sentence was to give ten tennis lessons each to Mrs. Nellie Coffman and Mrs. Julia Carnell.

Amos Has Close Call on Race Track

Freeman Gosden, known to the world as "Amos" of the famous "Amos 'n' Andy" radio team, had a narrow escape Wednesday at the Field Club when a trotting horse he was driving ran away, throwing the comedian out of his sulky. The horse ran through two fences before it was stopped. Gosden suffered no serious injuries, and was able to proceed with his radio broadcast Wednesday evening and yesterday took part in the Desert Circus.

He was treated at the Dr. Henry Reid Hospital after the accident, where it was found that he had only slight superficial scratches.

Big Cars Crash On Detour Near New Bridge

Two high-powered automobiles were badly damaged in a head-on collision Monday evening on the detour near the bridge between Palm Springs and Whitewater. Mrs. Rosenthal of San Francisco, who has been a guest here recently, was painfully injured and was taken to the Reid Hospital. She was driving a new Buick. The other car, a new Lincoln, which figured in the wreck was driven by William T. Walker, who is building a new home here. His former Palm Springs home he sold to Charles Correll of the "Amos 'n' Andy" radio team. Mr. Walker was uninjured, but his car was badly damaged.

Frank L. Meline Co. Agents for P. S. Palisades

The Frank L. Meline Company, one of the largest and oldest real estate firms and subdividers of Southern California, have been awarded exclusive sales agency for Palm Springs Palisades, and will have representatives here at once to take charge of the local office.

Maps of the large 320-acre tract of hillside property overlooking Palm Springs have been completed and are in the hands of salesmen.

The Frank L. Meline Company maintains a large sales force of 500 people and some thirty odd real estate offices. Mr. Meline has been very much interested in the possibilities of Palm Springs real estate and considers Palm Springs Palisades one of the most beautiful and promising subdivisions he has ever seen.

He has the exclusive agency for all the properties owned by the Palm Springs Land & Development Company which consists of Palm Springs Palisades and other holdings in Palm Springs, Palos Verdes, Pasadena and Long Beach.

Ray C. Smith, one of the owners of the Palm Springs property, made the deal whereby the Meline Company becomes the exclusive selling agency. The Palm Springs Land & Development Company will develop the property, putting in the roads and leveling hillside building sites.

The office building of the company will be greatly enlarged immediately in order to provide offices also for the Frank Meline Company.
